Visiting the Museum
A Social Story
I am going to the Museum of Russian Icons. The museum is home to many paintings and objects. There are rules I must remember during my visit.
There are signs around the museum that help keep me safe and remind me of the rules. I will follow what the signs say.
I will be careful not to touch any of the paintings or objects. I can help keep the art safe by keeping my hands to myself. There is an area on the lower level with items I can touch!
I will stay close to my family while I am at the museum. It is fun to look at all the art together!
I will walk slowly through the museum. If I go too fast I might get hurt or hurt the art.
I will use a quiet voice while I am inside the museum. The museum is generally a quiet, calm place. There is soft music that plays throughout the galleries. If I get too loud it might disturb other visitors.
I will not eat or drink while I am in the galleries.
If I get hungry or thirsty, I can go downstairs to the Tea Room.
It is important that I follow the rules at the museum to keep myself safe and to help the art stay safe too.

1. I will be careful not to touch any of the paintings. Touching the paintings can harm them.
2. I will stay with the group I came with. I do not want to wander around alone.
3. I will walk slowly through the museum. By walking slowly, I will be able to see all the details in the art!
4. I will use a quiet voice. The museum is a very peaceful place, so I don’t want to be too loud and make an echo!
5. I will not eat or drink in the museum. Food and drinks can be harmful to the art on the walls. If I get hungry or thirsty, I will go to the Tea Room on the lower level.
